

Dear Parents,

I want to begin by conveying my prayers of peace and protection for all our Trinity family. I hope you had an opportunity to find rest during this almost surreal Spring Break.

I can assure you we have a plan in place to continue the educational process while we are away from campus. We have always been in partnership with our parents and so I would like to share with you that our Lower School homeroom teachers, enrichment teachers and administrators have worked diligently to provide excellent academic instruction with opportunities for daily contact with students and parents. Teachers will be sharing some of that information with you very soon if they have not already done so. The information will give you guidance specific for your child's class. Teachers will provide ways you can partner with them to make this experience a successful one for your child. If you have questions, please feel free to contact your child's teacher by email.

While we feel confident in our plan, we know there may be a time of adjustment when we first begin. We will do our best to be sensitive to this during this chapter of learning. I believe the mantra for this season is patience and grace for one another. While we will miss being in the halls of Trinity, we will embrace this season to make the most of the opportunities with which God has blessed us.

I am available to you by email should you need me. Blessings to each of you as we continue to do the work for which we have each been called.

Warm Regards,
Becky Faulkner
