Research indicates that reading to your child is the single most important activity for building knowledge. Reading aloud stimulates their imagination and increases their vocabulary while developing a lifelong love of reading. A list of nursery rhymes, which can be shared without a text, has been included in the summer reading as an avenue for building phonological awareness, which aides in creating a firm foundation for pre-reading skills. We hope you will enjoy many wonderful books and rhymes with your child this summer. The featured titles are suggestions only, please come and explore the library with your child and encourage them to choose books that captivate their interest.

Happy Reading!
